BREAKS HIP IN HOBBLE SKIRT

Young Woman Trips, Sustaining Possibly Fatal Injuries.

Boston, Oct. 26.—While Miss Adelaide Cumming, of 173 West Forty-fifth street, New York, was visiting friends in Boston Sunday she received a message telling her of the dangerous illness of her only living sister, Miss Jane Cumming. Miss Jane had tried on her hob-ble gown and started downstairs. The stair treads were wider than the diameter of the hobble, consequently the young woman slipped and fell, breaking her hip bone and suffering other injuries which may result fatally.

Miss Adelaide Cumming is now the only living member of her family who has escaped the hoodoo of mischance
which has relentlessly pursued her line
for a generation, beginning with the loss of her grandfather, John G. Cumming, of Salem, in a shipwreck.

Bishop Rondthaler Tonight.

This evening at 8 o'clock at the Mo-
tavian church Bishop Edward Rondthaler, of Salem, will deliver his lecture on
"Remembrances of European Journeys."
The bishop's discourse promises to be very instructive and entertaining. Special offerings will also be rendered. A silver offering will be taken at the door by the ladies who have the occasion in charge. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends for their many acts of kindness and words of sympathy during the sickness and death of our wife and mother, Mrs. A. Ford.

BEGS TO BE REJECTED

Mr. Justice Would Not Serve on the Booker T. Washington Reception Committee.

Mr. E. J. Justice has sent the following letter to Mayor Stafford:
Hon. E. J. Stafford, Mayor, Etc., Greensboro, N. C.

Dear Sir:—The papers report that you have appointed me on a committee to welcome to Greensboro President Booker
T. Washington, who is perhaps the foremost member of his race, and while I do not know just what action the Board of Aldermen took in providing for a committee, and what the exact duties of that committee are, I feel that the newspaper notice of the action of the board,
and your action in conformity thereto
in appointing a committee makes it appropriate for me to address to you this note.

I preface what I have to say with reference to serving on that committee,
with the remark that I think all right
thinking citizens of both races ought to express appreciation publicly and privately of the great work President Washington has done for his race, and therefore for the South in which the negroes
live, and the welfare of which section
depends largely on what kind of citizens
the members of the negro race are.

The Southern white people instinctively and intuitively know how to encourage the negroes who strive for material advancement without confusing social distinctions, but it is important that their attitude should be definitely stated
to the public so that it may clearly appear to the white people of other sections that proper discrimination is made
by us.

I, therefore, feel embarrassed to know
just how I could serve on a committee to welcome the distinguished member of his race to Greensboro, when so many if not all of the duties of such a committee would be quasi social.

I feel that such a committee would not only be embarrassing to its members,
but to President Washington also.

I feel, however, that there are appropriate methods of giving public expression to the appreciation which the white
people of this community have of his life
work.

I have been requested by a citizen of the negro race resident in Greensboro,
acting, as he told me, on your suggestion, to represent the Chamber of Commerce on the occasion of President Washington's visit, and give public expression of the views of that organization with reference to the uplift of the negro race by reason of the correct teachings of this worthy member. It will afford me pleasure to act in that capacity, but I would prefer not to act as a member of a reception committee.

Very respectfully yours,
E. J. JUSTICE.

BROKERS FAIL FOR MILLION

Philippine Gold Mine Fizzle Started Firm's Downfall.

Pittsburg, Oct. 26.—Harry A. Martin, a stock broker, made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors today to Fred Sermin, a member of the firm. Sermin said it was impossible to estimate the amount involved, but on the Stock Exchange and elsewhere it was placed at more than $1,000,000.

Martin had been engaged in the oil
business in Bradford, Pa., where he had accumulated quite a fortune. He married a daughter of J. Daniels, a merchant of Syracuse and Lockport, N. Y., after which he came here. Allying himself with a syndicate of capitalists, he bought seats on the local and New York Stock Exchanges and prospered.
Five years ago he promoted the Oriental & Masabete gold mine in the Philippines, when large blocks of stock were sold in New York and Massachusetts.
This, however, ended in a fizzle on account of defects in the title to the property.

NEW YORK'S HEALTH WORST

Has Highest Death Rate Except Tokyo,
Carnel Expert Declares.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 26.—The city of New York has a higher death rate than any of the great cities of the world except Tokyo, said Prof. Walter F. Wilcox,
the Cornell sociologist and statistician,
in an address to the students today.

New Orleans has the smallest death
rate of the cities of the United States, he said. In Europe, Sweden has the smallest death rate, and Russia the largest.

Halloween Party and Oyster Supper.

of Jamestown High School will give a Halloween party and oyster supper in the high school building Saturday night,
Oct. 29. The public cordially invited.

AUTOMOBILES IN THE STATE

Nearly Two Thousand
Have Been Licensed.

Mecklenburg County Has the Largest Number—There Are Twenty-Three Counties In Which There Are No Machines—Farmer's Day At Colored
State Fair—Vice President In Capital
City.

Raleigh, Oct. 26.—The first official report issued by the secretary of state
under the provisions of the North Carolina automobile law showing the automobiles registered in the state is just
out and consists of a little book of 168
pages that give the lists of licenses in two groups, one alphabetically and the other by counties with the numbers of the licenses, name of owner and make of machine. It also shows the licenses
canceled and includes a complete copy of the North Carolina automobile law.

There are one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four automobiles licensed in this state, except that some few of the licenses issued have been canceled. Mecklenburg county has the most machines, leading with 187 machines. Those next highest are Forsyth, Buncombe and Guilford, all three well over one hundred.

There are 23 counties that have no automobiles at all within their borders.
And there are 18 that have as few as from one to five machines. Those with no machines at all are Alleghany, Brunswick, Carteret, Caswell, Clay, Dare, Gates, Green, Haywood, Graham, Hyde, Macon, Madison, Mitchell, Montgomery, Onslow, Pender, Stokes, Swain, Tyrrell, Watauga, Yancey. The eighth-highest with five and less are Yadkin 2,
Warren 3, Rutherford 3, Perquimans 1,
Person 1, Polk 2, Randolph 4, Martin 2, Pamlico 3, MacDowell 1, Jones 1, Jackson 1, Granville 5, Camden 2, Currituck
2; Bladen 3, Alexander 3.

Hon. Ashley Horne was the principal speaker for farmers' day at the Negro State Fair today. The other speakers were Col. J. E. Pogue, and Dr. J. Y.
Joyner. Better farming and the best possible agricultural instruction in the schools for the negroes were some of the matters most dwelt upon. The speakers urged that the farm is one of the very best avenues for negro endeavor and all who could possibly do so were urged to get on farms and stick to this work.
Tomorrow is educational day. The fair continues through Friday.

Hon. J. S. Sherman, Vice President of the United States, here this afternoon
and tonight for a campaign speech
under the auspices of the North Carolina Republican campaign committee,
was showered with social attentions especially on account of his official position. He was met at the depot at 4:05
p. m. by a large committee of citizens
and escorted to the Yarrowburgh House
where there was an informal reception for an hour. Then at 6 o'clock he was the honor guest for an elaborate dinner
by Col. A. B. Andrews, Vice President of the Southern Railway Co., at his Blount street home. From this function
he went to Metropolitan hall for the political speech in which he discussed before an immense audience the national issues of the campaign from the Republican viewpoint. After this speech he was driven to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Andrews where there was an informal reception especially with a view to having the Vice President meet as many of the ladies as possible. From the Andrews residence he went to the Elks Temple for an informal smoker
that continued to 2 a. m. when the vice president took the westbound Southern train for Greensboro where he is scheduled to speak tomorrow.

Seeks Girl To Give Wealth.

Denver, Oct. 26.—Lyman B. Brown, of Denver, heir to the entire estate of his friend, Charles Burns, a pioneer miner,
today announced that he would not accept the bequest, but would try to find a 16-year-old daughter of the testator
and give the property to her. Burns and his wife were divorced when the daughter was a child, and the girl is now attending school somewhere in New York State.

If you registered and voted two years ago, and have not changed your precinct, it is not necessary to register
again.

A BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING

Miss MacDonald
Weds Mr. Maxwell.

Beautiful Home Wedding At Home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Holton Last Evening—Brilliant Reception Followed Wedding—Bride and Groom Off on Extended Bridal Tour—Will Be In Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 15.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Holton, 302 East Market street, was the scene of a beautiful home wedding last evening at 8 o'clock when their daughter, Miss Queenie MacDonald, became the bride of Mr. D. E. Maxwell, of Jacksonville, Fla. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Livingston Johnson, of Raleigh, a former pastor of the bride, in the presence of the relatives and immediate friends of the bride and groom.

The parlor, where the ceremony was performed, had been artistically decorated with palms, ferns, ivy and white chrysanthemums, a bower of palms and ivy being arranged as a background for the wedding scene. While the ceremony was being performed the bride and groom stood beneath a white wedding
bell.

Just before the ceremony Mrs. Janie Foushee sang "Because God Made You Mine" and during the time the bride party was assembling Brockmann's Orchestra rendered a wedding march.

Down the stairs came the bridesmaids,
Misses Sadie Walker, of Winston-Salem,
and Rosa Murchison, of Charleston, S.
C., wearing white lingerie dresses
and carrying yellow chrysanthemums.
They carried ribbons, making an aisle for the remainder of the bridal party. Next came the first dame of honor, Mrs. A. E. White, of Lumberton, followed by the second dame of honor,
Mrs. S. H. Isler, of Kinston. They wore white satin and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Alma MacDonald, sister of the bride, wearing white chiffon over white satin and carrying yellow chrysanthemums. Next came the groom and his best man and brother, Mr. Frank Maxwell, of Jacksonville.

Then came the bride, leaning on the arm of her father who gave her away.
She was gown in a Dutchess lace robe
over white satin and carried a shower
bouquet of Bride roses and lilies of the valley. Her veil was caught with lilies of the valley. Her ornament was a diamond necklace, the gift of the groom.
The bride and groom met under the wedding bell and Rev. Livingston Johnson spoke the solemn vows, the ring
ceremony being used.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell left last night
on No. 38 for a trip to Northern cities.
They will be at home in Jacksonville,
Fla., about Nov. 15.

The bride is an attractive young lady
and is exceedingly popular throughout the city and county. She numbers her friends by her acquaintances. The groom is a rising young business man of Jacksonville. The large collection of handsome presents attest to their popularity.

The Reception.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was given and hundreds of friends of the young couple called to extend congratulations.

The guests were met at the hall door
by Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Broadhurst and directed to the cloak room by Masters
Charles Murchison and William Dodson.
Mrs. M. K. Harding and Mrs. Dorsey
Hagan ushered the guests into the parlor. Receiving here were the bride party, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Holton, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Murchison, Mr. Jesse Millikan,
Mr. Bryan Murchison, Mrs. Sarah Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillon, Mrs. T.
J. Copeland, Mrs. W. G. Crutchfield, Mrs.
J. A. Montgomery and Mrs. Clayton Grant, of Wilmington.

In the library, with white and yellow decorations, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Vans-tory, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Watkins, Dr. and Mrs. E. R.
Michaux, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Medearis received and exhibited the magnificent collection of gifts.

In the sitting room, the color scheme
here being yellow, punch was served by Miss Nan Wood and Mrs. Janie Foushee,
Messrs. Jas. Mann, David Stern and Eli Oettinger. Receiving here were Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Hadley, Mr. and Mrs. E. C.
Deal, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. High, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Blair, Mrs. Eugenia Watling-

ton. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jackson and Mr.
and Mrs. M. W. Thompson asked the guests into the dining room, at the door
of which they were met by Mr. and Mrs.
J. B. Stroud. The room presented a most beautiful scene, the color scheme being pink. A canopy of pink tulle and smilax was suspended over the table,
while the mantle was covered with pink dahlias. The chuny lace centerpiece on the table was the foundation for a cut glass basket of pink dahlias. Dainty refreshments were served by Mesdames
Jos. J. Stone, D. V. McLeod, Gregory
Frazier, Herbert Leak and Carrie Yates.

Brockmann's orchestra, in the sitting room, rendered music during the evening.

The out of town guests present for the wedding and reception were: Mrs.
Sarah Maxwell, Mr. Frank Maxwell, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. C.
Murchison, Miss Rosa Murchison and Mr. Bryan Murchison, of Charleston, S.
C.; Mrs. W. G. Crutchfield, of Anniston, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillon, of Atlanta; Mrs. T. J. Copeland, of Baltimore; Mr. Jesse Millikan, of Pittsboro; Mrs. J. A. Montgomery and Mrs. Clayton Grant, of Wilmington; Mrs. S. H.
Isler, of Kinston; Miss Sadie Walker,
of Winston; Mrs. A. E. White, of Lumberton.

WOMAN ROBS MAN IN HOTEL

Throws $6000 Plunder Away on Finding
It In Notes, Not Cash.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Julius Pauly, a New York salesman, was robbed of $6000 by a woman who entered his room at a downtown hotel and simulated illness.
"Quick! Give me a glass of water; I'm fainting!" said the woman as she
trottered toward a couch in the room.

Mr. Pauly gave her the water and asked if he should call the house physician. The woman said not to call a doctor as she was subject to fainting
spells, and would soon be all right.

"Please let me lie on the couch a few minutes," she pleaded, "and I will go
when I am stronger."

A long wallet protruded from the hip pocket of Pauly's trousers. In it were five notes for $6000. After the woman had gone Pauly discovered that he had been robbed of the wallet. He reported the theft and the purse and contents
were found later in a corridor where the woman is supposed to have thrown
it when she discovered that it contained notes instead of currency.

A COMPARISON

Things Were Different Here on Circus
Day From What They Were In Danville.

A Danville policeman was here circus
day and was comparing notes with some of the Greensboro policemen on circus
day arrests.

On circus day here, with thousands and thousands of visitors here and with the entire city taking a holiday, there was one arrest for drunkenness.

On circus day in Danville there were forty odd people locked up and seventy or eighty cases before the court next morning. And all this, too, after the police had kept the number of arrests
down by permitting friends of intoxicated ones from the country to take them home, thus enabling them to avoid arrest.

A dry town on circus day is thus seen to be a vastly different place from a wet town on circus day.

Hookworm Examination At the A. & M. College.

The Hookworm examination has been made at the A. & M. College under the supervision of the North Carolina Board of Health. Dr. John A. Ferrell, assistant secretary for the eradication of the hookworm disease, had immediate charge. It was found that the students infected averaged less than 15 per cent.
Dr. Ferrell stated that it was his opinion from reports received that the infection among the colored people will not run as high as the hookworm specialists had anticipated.

Big Eagle Swoops on Child.

Eola, Ill., Oct. 26.—An eagle with a spread of wings of eight feet was killed
yesterday by Conrad Brummell, when the big "bird of freedom" swooped down
on his daughter, Anna Brummell, six years old, as she was playing in a pasture. The child's screams aroused her father, who dropped the eagle after using both barrels of his shotgun. The eagle darted twice at the child, who ran
for refuge beside a pet cow.

If you have changed your precinct
since you registered two years ago, it is necessary to re-register if you hope to vote in November.

WILL WORK ON REGISTRATION

Stedman Club Officers
Outline Plans.

Effort Will Be Made to Have Every Democrat Who Has Not Done So Register During Last Three Days—Will Likely Celebrate "Young Men's Day"
With a Speech Saturday Night—The Workers Active.

The officers and committees of the Stedman Democratic Club met last night in the office of A. W. Cooke and discus-ed the work of the campaign. It was the opinion of everybody that the work
of greatest importance at present is to see that every Democrat in the city has registered or that he does register before Saturday night. An especial effort will be made to have all the young men register.

There are only three more days for registration and there are hundreds of Democrats, old and young, in the city
who have failed to attend to this important duty. The workers are securing the names of Democrats who have so far failed to register and workers will wait on them and urge them to register.
However, every Democrat is urged to attend to this at once and if he has not registered to do so. If a person has moved into another precinct since the last election he must register in his new precinct, provided he has lived in it four months. "Take no chances that your name may be on the books," says the leaders of the club, "but take it upon yourself to personally see that your name is enrolled and that you are entitled to vote."

Mr. E. B. King, who has been appointed leader for the county in the movement to arouse the interest of the young men in matters political, states that it has been deemed best to join forces with the Stedman Club, inasmuch as this body is composed principally of the young Democracy of the city. The club will exert every effort to induce the young men of the city and county to participate in the coming election, but as stated above, the first effort will be directed toward securing a full registration, in which work the young men will be sought out especially.

On Saturday night, however, it is planned to have a public meeting of the club and the young men of the city and county will be extended a cordial invitation to attend. Efforts are being made to secure a prominent young speaker for this occasion.

MOTHER-IN-LAW ELOPES, TOO

Crafty Man Rings Prospective Parent
Into Daughter's Runaway Match.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—When Howard E.
Risher, of St. Louis, eloped with Miss Edna M. Boyle he took his prospective
Chicago mother-in-law along with him.
But she did not know anything about it.

Mrs. Mary Boyle, the mother-in-law,
sat out in front of the church at Michigan City, Ind., while her daughter was being married within. Then the bride and bridegroom came out and told her about it, also introducing Rev. Howard D. Borey, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who performed the ceremony.

Mr. Risher then sent a telegram to his father, Howard M. Risher, at Momestead, Pa., telling of his marriage and
of his bride—whom his parents did not know.

FOUND THE EMPTY PURSES

Pickpockets Took Contents and Threw
the Purses Away.

An echo of the busy and festive pick-
pockets of circus day was the discovery
yesterday of a number of purses under
a building in the vicinity of the circus grounds. It is needless to add that they were all empty. The pickpockets
had gathered in the contents and thrown
the purses away.

It is also said that some papers found
in some of the rifled purses indicated
that some of the victims of the light
fingered gentry had kept their losses so quiet that they didn't get into the newspapers.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propagates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once become infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Send for stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Case dollar bottles guaranteed. Fariss-Klutts Drug Co., and Greensboro Drug Co., Special Agents.

HOW OLD PEOPLE

May Prolong Their Lives.

At an advanced age waste is more rapid than repair. The organs act more slowly and less effectively than in youth. The circulation is poor—the blood thin and watery—the appetite poor and digestion weak. We want to say to every aged person in this vicinity that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil) will prolong life. It creates an appetite, aids digestion and makes good blood. In this natural manner Vinol retards waste and replaces weakness with strength, giving new life to the worn system.

If people in this vicinity only realized how Vinol invigorates old people we would not be able to supply the demand. Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Fariss-Klutts Drug Co., Greensboro, N. C.

ADMITS HAVING FIVE HUSBANDS

Marrying Widow Blames it on Matrimonial Agencies.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Mrs. Alice Hoskins, who was recently arrested in Medford, Ok., charged with bigamy, was brought back yesterday on a fugitive warrant. "Matrimonial agencies caused me all this trouble," she said. "I married four men in 14 months. Now I am sorry for it. Any woman can get a man if she keeps on trying."

Mrs. Hoskins is 45 years of age, not good-looking, and is accompanied by a 10-year-old daughter. She admits five marriages. The police believe she has been the wife of a dozen men.

"I married through matrimonial agencies," she continued. "The managers used to advise us to give fictitious names, and if we didn't get any answers at first to change our descriptions just as often as we liked."

"That's how I came to take so many names. You see, the agency never got any fee from the women. Only the men who selected wives were made to pay, and naturally the agents wanted to have as many marriages as possible. That's why we gave so many different names. I was in three of them, the Tecumseh (Mich.) Agency, the Gannett's Agency, in Toledo, Ohio, and the Matrimonial Club, of Denver. I had a list of 50 or 60 eligible men on hand."

"Fourteen months ago, in Troy, O., while I was a widow, I made my first matrimonial agency marriage. I was married to James Bowers, but found that he had 10 children. I couldn't live with him, and as I had still my life membership in the matrimonial agencies I left for Toledo last January and was married to J. W. Graham, of Toledo."

"I left him and July 3 married James E. Young, of this city. He was too old, 65. I went to Conway Springs, Kan., and married Hugh Hoskins in September. I ran away from him because I thought I had done wrong. I went to Enid, Ok., and decided to quit marrying. I was at work in a hotel when arrested. Graham, the Toledo husband, and Young, the Chicago husband, are prosecuting."

A SPECIALIST IN FLOWERS

Girl Who Knows Harmonious Perfumes as Well as Colors.

New York Tribune.

"Don't put those together," said the girl who knows all about flowers to a friend who was massing hyacinths and early lilacs.

"Why not? They're both purple; they harmonize."

"The colors do but the scents don't," said the specialist in flowers. "Lilacs have a heavy scent, and so have hyacinths, so it's a mistake to mix them. Arrange your hyacinths alone or with some scentless or very delicately scented flower, and do the same with the lilacs."

"Dear me, I guess you're right. I never thought about the odors of flowers that way," said the other girl. Few people do. Those who are discriminating enough to avoid joining colors that clash feel they are the truly enlightened, for there are any number of vandals who know better than to insult flowers by tumbling into one bowl conflicting tints that shriek at one another. But for 25 people with an eye for color there is perhaps one true plant lover who knows how to arrange flowers by the test of the nose.

It takes a most delicate sense of smell to do this well; yet there are certain rules that anyone may learn. Mignonette, for instance, with its elusive, indefinite sweetness, is the ideal foil for the perfume of roses, especially those that are tea scented. People sensitive to odors love the combined fragrance of mignonette and sweet peas. It is a sort of fairy peach smell, very piquant and refreshing. And as sweet peas and mignonette bloom at the same time, both being annuals and raised from seed without much trouble, it is easy enough to indulge in the combination.

Those unfortunate flowers that are born without fragrance, but are too pretty to be ignored in bouquet making, phlox, Shirley poppies, blanket flowers, and similar brilliant but soulless blossom folk should be leavened with a few sprigs of lemon verbena, the leaves of the rose geranium or anything pungent enough to give them character. Rose geranium, too, is exceedingly useful to use with heavily scented blossoms. It makes their odors less oppressive. Heliotrope, though it hasn't a heavy scent, is improved by some rose geranium leaves. Heliotrope is delicious in a darkened room in summer.

Tea roses and Japanese honeysuckle together produce an enticing perfume. The sweet scent of the honeysuckle seems to accentuate the delicate tealike odor of the rose. Nothing could be better for a luncheon decoration than clusters of these two varieties of flowers.

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and strengthen Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

like illness, it is often necessary quickly to raise the temperature of a room. For instance, in those hours between midnight and dawn, when the day temperature has been allowed to drop, if you are called upon to get up, the room is chilly and cold. It takes a long time to start up a furnace or fire and raise the temperature by ordinary means.

You can instantly heat a room to any desired temperature with a

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

It quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the font burns steadily for nine hours, without smoke or smell. Has automatic-locking flame spreader which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be cleaned in an instant. It has a cool handle and a damper top.

An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. It has a filler-cap which does not need to be screwed down; it is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for reworking.

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in Japan or nickel. It is strong, durable and well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

Ben Hicks' Mirth

By F. A. MITCHEL.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

"Howdy, Jim?"
"Howdy, Ben?"
"What y' been?"
"Down to the Corners fer to buy some goods for the store."
"Been away some time, haven't ye?"
"A matter o' four days."
"Who did y' leave in charge o' yer store?"
"Wilkins' boy."
"Y' find it kind o' lonesome cavortin' around here without any o' yer family, don't y'?"
"You bet. I been tryin' to make enough to bring my wife 'n boy out, but bad debts beat me."
"Hard lines."
"I'm goin' to start out on a new principle. I'm not goin' to trust any one."
The other cast a melancholy look at Jim Murphy, but didn't say anything. Ben Hicks was a short, thickset man or, rather, boy. No one was quite sure whether he was man or boy. He wore a vest and a pair of trousers much too large for him and no coat. No one had ever seen him smile.
"Yer too late, Jim," he said at last.
"What d'y'e mean?" asked Jim eagerly.

"Yer store's been entered."
"Entered?"
"Yes, the day after you left there was two o' 'em come down on Wilkins' boy, turned him out 'n tuk possession." Jim was heartbroken. He cursed the day he had come west to a country where there was neither law nor order; he lamented having separated from his wife and child, for fate seemed to decree that he should remain separated from them. Now, since robbers had come down on his stock of goods he could not get back to them nor bring them to him.
"Have they carted the stuff away?" he asked.

"Dunno; reckon not."
"Suppose they jist gutted it, carryin' off what they wanted and ruined the rest. That's the way these jayhawkers do."

Ben Hicks made no reply to this. He looked as if he was going to cry. Indeed, he seemed so melancholy that Jim didn't like to show any more despondency at the loss of his stock. It seemed to have so lugubrious an effect on his sympathetic friend.

"Oh, well," said Jim, "sich things can't be helped. What we have to do in this world when we get knocked down is to get up ag'in and go ahead 's if nuthin' had happened. Cheer up, Ben. I'll bring it all around right in time."

"What y' goin' to do with 'em?"

"With the robbers?"

"Yes."

"You don't mean they're there yit?"

"Yes, I do. They're makin' their selves at home."

"In my house, with my things?"

"Yes."

"And not a neighbor has raised a finger to turn 'em out?"

"Nary finger."

"Do you suppose you and I together could tackle 'em?"

"Reckon I could fix the smaller of the two."

"And the other?"

"You kin manage t'other, I reckon."

"What was they doin' when you left?"

"Reckon they war fightin'."

"Don't y' know?"

"Well, I'd got quite a ways from 'em when I heered a yell. I looked back and the little man was a kickin' and a hollerin' 'n t'other one was a hittin' of him."

"What then?"

"I come away then."

Jim Speers carried on this dialogue with his friend while he walked along homeward, the other walking beside him. When they came in sight of the house Jim's eye lighted a little.

"At any rate," he remarked, "they've not burned it. What y' goin'?"

"Reckon you kin tackle 'em alone."

"Fraid?"

But Ben made no reply to this imputation on his courage. Jim went on. A three-year-old boy playing on the premises was all that appeared. A woman came out of the house and was about to take the boy in when she espied Jim. Shading her eyes with her hand, she gazed on him for a moment, then ran to meet him.

"Why, Moll, how did you git here?"

"Made the money sewin'."

"And the kid?"

"There he is."

She pointed to the boy before the house. Jim sprang away from her and, running to the boy, took him up in his arms and covered him with kisses. When the wife came up Jim turned to her, took both her and the boy in one embrace and said:

"By thunder, I never had such a change from trouble to happiness in my life. It was all that Ben Hicks' doin's. He tole me the store had been entered, the boy I left in charge fired and let me believe robbers had done it."

Later when the Speers family were celebrating their reunion with a good supper a neighbor came along.

"What's the matter with Ben Hicks, Jim?" he asked. "I seen him goin' along chucklin' about sumpin. No one ever saw him do that before. He's solemn as an owl. I asked him what he was chucklin' about, and he tole me I could find out from you."

Jim explained the source of Ben's mirth.

Things are still going the cotton farmer's way. Cotton went up three dollars a bale in a single day this week. Planting cotton seems to be one "get rich quick" scheme that will work.

The Columbia State consoles itself for the census results, which were somewhat discouraging, by declaring that every man of Columbia's population is a "team." Well, there surely is something in quality.

The Presbyterian Synod has honored a prominent and deservedly popular Greensboro layman—Mr. A. M. Scales—by making him moderator. He will fill the position with dignity, impartiality and efficiency.

Mr. Butler indulges largely in abuse of Senator Simmons and Governor Kitchin. This in spite of the fact that the prevailing Republican criticism of the Democratic speakers is that they have recourse too much to abuse and too little to argument.

The movement for more and better "breathing spaces" deserves encouragement. The city is indeed fortunate in having a number of people who are energetic and enterprising in matters making for the public weal. These people deserve to have the appreciation and the support of the public generally.

We believe that Mr. Justice is right in the matter of serving on the Booker Washington reception committee. Booker Washington is a very smart man, but he is a colored man and colored men ought to greet him and have him in charge while here. There are plenty of public-spirited colored people here to give the noted colored educator the sort of welcome that a man of his achievements is entitled to.

Congressman Godwin declares that what Fredell Meares is really running for is the Wilmington postoffice. It is natural to suppose that all the candidates in the hopeless districts will expect pay for their trouble. They do not go into that sort of thing for the love of it, or for the sport of the thing, but for the rocks. It is hardly to be doubted that this "spavined Democrat," as the Richmond Virginian has dubbed him, has his eye on the Wilmington postoffice or some other fat Federal job.

The General Education Board which, we believe, is but another name for John D. Rockefeller, has given Meredith College, of Raleigh, $50,000 and Trinity College, of Durham, $150,000. Of course both gifts are conditioned on the colleges raising certain amounts. The way things are going now, Trinity will soon have more money than it can spend. The immensely wealthy Dukes have long had it under their wings and now along comes Mr. Rockefeller to give it an upward boost. Seldom it is that a single college falls in the way of the benefactions of two trusts.

The country must thank Col. Roosevelt for one thing—he has been the occasion of some mighty fine English composition. For instance, what could be finer than this by Martin W. Littleton, one of the Brooklyn candidates for Congress?

In the wide range of his active mind he has never encountered a structure of authority which he would not change; a form of government which he would not alter; a society which he would not transform. In the long reach of his ample and enriched years he has never met with a philosopher whom he would not advise; a teacher whom he would not instruct; a soldier whom he would not command; a king whose sceptre he would not wield; a book which he would not re-write; a religion which he would not re-organize; a civilization which he would not reconstruct.

In government bound by no law; in life bound by no policy; in intercourse bound by no attachment; in debate bound by no record; in society bound by no conventions; in conduct bound by no traditions; in attack bound by no strategy; in retreat bound by no order; in ambition bound by no limit, he towers today the embodiment of conscious and unconstrained power. He is the final, conclusive and dogmatic answer to the riddles of the universe.

Baring the Feet at Worship.

In India Hindus and Mussulmans alike wear both sandals and shoes (slippers) and the latter boots also, but the invariable rule is to remove them after entering a private house just when stepping on to the mat or carpet on which the visitor takes his seat. They must be cast off, the right boot or shoe first, before the worshiper enters a temple or mosque, and it is still regarded as an absolute profanation to attempt to enter either fully shod. But the domestic habit arose out of its obvious propriety, and the religious ritual of "the shoes of the faithful," now and for centuries past observed throughout Islam, can be demonstrated to have been dictated by, if indeed it be not derived directly from, the universal social etiquette of the east.

Did His Best.

The young politician was as obliging as possible, but there was a limit to his possibilities. When the reporter asked him what his wife would wear at the mayor's reception he assumed a confidential air.

"I'll tell you just as much as I know myself," he said. "Last night she told me she should wear white. This morning at breakfast she said she'd decided on her rose colored gown, and when I said goodbye to her she had spread a gray one beside the rose colored one on one chair and her black lace beside the white on another and was taking something else out of the closet. If her hair hadn't caught on a hook as she turned round I might have been able to tell you more."—Youth's Companion.

The Perfect Figure.

"John, dear," queried the young wife, glancing up from the physical culture magazine she was perusing, "what is your idea of a perfect figure?"

"Well," replied her husband, "$100,000 may not be perfection, but it's near enough to satisfy a man of my simple tastes."—Chicago News.

FOOTBALL GAME THIS AFTERNOON

The High School To Play the Stars—The Latter Forty Pounds Heavier To the Man.

(By a High School Student.) This afternoon will witness another determined effort of the Meat Trust to operate a monopoly in Greensboro. The scene of conflict will be Cone park, the defenders of the principles of right are the eleven men composing the football team of the Greensboro High School. The trust, which is known variously to itself and to others, but to their opponents as the Beef Trust, has selected fifteen men who will champion the right of peaceable citizens to indulge in a game of football when so inclined. The inclination will doubtless disappear in short order after the contest which will be the cause of production of laughs from spectators and groans from the valiant knights of the trust.

The game is to be played for the benefit of the Athletic Association of the Greensboro High School which has run into debt in the effort to bring good football games here. The citizens of the town are requested to show some small appreciation by attending the games, for without their support, which is certainly deserved as they are not asked to contribute to a charity fund but receive full value for the money invested, teams from other towns could not visit here. Fifteen of our citizens, so charitably inclined that they have volunteered to meet the High School team in a game and attempt to pay off the debt of the association, will tomorrow don football togs and trot on the gridiron in full glory. This is a representative Greensboro team, composed of has-beens, are-nows, and will-bes. They outweigh the High School team about forty pounds to the man. They practiced yesterday afternoon and, therefore, in entering the game are responsible to themselves for all bumps, bruises and stiffnesses which they may, by chance, receive. The smaller boys in the game will receive good practice for their contest with Reidsville High School Saturday at Cone Park.

The admission this afternoon will be 25c. to the struggle between the following line-ups:

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
SHOULD HAVE KEPT HANDS OFF

Mr. Brown Thinks It Ought To Have Ignored the Coming of Mr. Sherman.

Editor Telegram:

Greensboro needs every influence that will aid in its industrial development and surely there is at present no agency more effectively than our Chamber of Commerce, provided it performs its functions and confines its efforts to those things which go to make for industrial betterment. In the not distant past the Chamber departed from its sphere of usefulness and seemed to have entered the political field. It was realized that this was an error and it required a superhuman effort to again revive interest and place the Chamber in position to do the work for which it was organized.

Some of us think that the same mistake is being again made, as we notice the Chamber has felt called upon to appoint a reception committee to meet Mr. Sherman who is traversing the South on a political speaking tour. If Mr. Sherman was coming to Greensboro as Hon. James S. Sherman, Vice President of the United States, it would be entirely proper for the Chamber to appoint such a committee and every right-thinking citizen would consider it an honor to serve on such a committee. But, Mr. Editor, such is not his role. On the contrary he is coming here as plain "Sunny Jim" Sherman, Republican stump speaker and spell-binder and his mission is to aid in turning this county, congressional district and State over to the Republican party. Under these circumstances I believe the Chamber should have kept hands off.

E. A. BROWN.

Inasmuch as the members of the reception committee know that Dr. Washington's tour is in the interest of all the people and that all will share in the benefits to be derived from it, my opinion is that they will feel it incumbent upon them as representatives of the people to tender Dr. Washington and his party a reception that shall in form and manner adequately show the good will of all the people of Greensboro.

"Personally I stand ready to co-operate with all the committees and the people in doing all that in their judgment is proper.

ELIMINATE
BUTLER AND
MOREHEAD!This The Appeal of Gazette News.

Asheville Gazette-News.

To recapitulate: Prior to the assembling of the Republican convention at Greensboro those men who now comprise the new party leadership were known to favor a frank declaration for local option. These men had the support of the liquor interests, and used those interests in making Morehead chairman. When the convention assembled a poll of the delegates was made, whereupon it was found that it would never do to present a resolution declaring for the repeal of the State-wide prohibition law, as a majority of the delegates would oppose such a plank, or resolution. It therefore became expedient, from the point of view of the new leadership, to dissemble their real purposes behind a plank susceptible of the interpretation which these new leaders had definitely determined to give it at what they might deem the proper time and place. It was an act of double duplicity. As Col. Lusk has so forcibly pointed out, not only was he, but a majority of the delegates who comprised the convention, were betrayed, and this act of betrayal was attended by a contemptuous disregard of the known sentiments of the convention that was amazing. Morehead's first return for the favor which the delegates had shown him in making him chairman was an act of treachery which, in its magnitude and cunning, must have commanded the approval even of Marion Butler.

But the liquor forces were likewise betrayed, for their money had been secured through false pretenses, and these men were heard on the streets, following the convention, to complain bitterly of their treatment. The definite idea of the new leadership was to betray friends and destroy all late foes. Delegates who listened with respectful admiration to the fair words contained in Morehead's speech of acceptance had already been betrayed, while an hour after the last soft word had been spoken, Morehead became conspicuous in a libelous attack that had planned the complete destruction of the Republican National committeeman from the State by depicting him in ways obviously lawless, from his position as committeeman.

But to get back to the trail of the serpent. Having betrayed both the majority of the delegates and the whiskey forces the new leadership felt that the exigencies of the situation demanded that this dishonest course, once agreed upon, should be followed to its logical conclusion. The process was no doubt attended with some pain in certain quarters, but the new leaders of a party directed and deodorized by Butler were told to smother their sentiments until it would be safe to come into the open. Letters were addressed to Morehead from people all over the State, asking the same question that Col. Lusk and others had asked in the convention, but Morehead opened not his mouth. He had concluded that dishonesty would be the best policy and he was not to be swerved from that course, not even when letters were addressed to him by officers of the Anti-Saloon league. Come what might Morehead had determined that he would never be honest with himself, or the voters so long as the policy of deception promised to prove as profitable to himself in the election as it had on the occasion of the state convention.

It would be interesting to know what influences impelled some of these leaders to hazard an eleventh hour interpretation of the local self-government plank. It is known that a local option plank had been put in writing, and definitely agreed upon before the convention was polled. Did it become necessary?

sary, a few days since, to give the two-faced plank a wet construction, to the end that the upholders might command the continuing support of the liquor interests? Did a prospect of the withholding of campaign funds drive these leaders to a partial, if reluctant, show of honesty? From all reports, Morehead's committee is well supplied with funds, and the presumption that these funds are being provided by the Liquor Dealers association is not wholly lacking in verisimilitude; the fact of an entangling alliance has only been kept partially concealed. Did the liquor interests demand some expression from those in authority, and does this demand explain the pronouncement, the unexpected candor, of Butler at Shelby and Settle at Raleigh? How else is one to explain these unexpected moves into the open after the whole party leadership had agreed to play a part, to dodge this issue, until after election?

In the foregoing it has not been the purpose to argue the merits of the issue of local option, which the Republican leaders are seeking to make prominent at this late day of the campaign. Our point is that a party leadership guilty of such duplicity and dishonesty as these men have shown—a duplicity of which their own friends were the chosen victims—cannot command the respect, and should not be favored with the suffrages of either Democrats or Republicans. There are wet Democrats and wet Republicans, but we believe that a majority of both believe in honesty and fair dealing. We believe there is honor even among blind tigers; while these hide their liquor they do not hide their sentiments. The Republican leaders in this State have hid both. There is not one of them that deserves either the good will or the vote of the lowliest and most obscure back alley liquor vender in the State. They are of that class of men who lacking the courage of their vet convictions will, if they ever succeed in bringing about the re-establishment of the saloon, immediately demand the protection of screens. There are plenty of good men who favor local option, but we believe that now is the accepted time for all men, of all parties, who abhor and despise fraud, to come together in the effort to eliminate from public life a band of men who, in one short campaign, have already betrayed their friends and supporters on both sides of this great moral question.

THE DIFFERENCE

between a dollar saved and a dollar spent is just two dollars. Did it ever occur to you that way? It's worth thinking about.

Another difference is the feeling you have afterward. The dollar saved gives you a feeling of real pleasure—it may call for a little sacrifice for the time being, but afterward you feel better for having denied yourself and the dollar is still yours. That is the nice thing about having money in the bank—you have saved it—it is still yours—you can have it when you wish.

We make it a part of our business to urge you to have a bank account as this bank, for it not only helps our business but yours more so.

ALL MY PIMPLES GONE

Girl Tells How a Blotchy Skin Was Cleansed By a Simple Wash.

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Minnie Pickard of Altamaw, N. C. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription I can say that now there is no sign of that Eczema, and that was three years ago."

D. D. D. has become so famous as a cure and instant relief in Eczema and all other serious skin diseases, that its value is sometimes overlooked in clearing up rash, pimples, blackheads, and all other minor forms of skin impurities.

The fact is, that while D. D. D. is so penetrating that it strikes to the very root of Eczema or any other serious trouble, the soothing Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients are so carefully compounded there is no wash for the skin made that can compare with this great household remedy for every kind of skin trouble.

D. D. D. is pleasant to use, perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, and absolutely reliable. A 25-cent bottle will give you positive proof of the wonderful effectiveness of this great remedy.

AN UNWELCOME GUEST.

British Gunboat Has A Python Loose On Board.

London Telegraph. Once when the British gunboat Rattler was in Eastern waters the crew had a lively time looking after a python on board that got loose.

Besides the python there was on board a big Borneo orang-outang. The python, which was 19 or 20 feet in length, having dined heartily on a deer about three weeks before, began to feel its appetite returning, and in searching about its box for the place of egress found one side in bad repair. It did not take the python long to come through the weak part, and quite unobserved it began its perambulations around the boat.

Seeing the orang-outang chained up a few yards off, the big snake invited itself to the dinner very much to its taste. It would have been all over with the orang-outang had not the quartermaster at that moment made the discovery that the two pets were about to be merged into one. He promptly cut the orang-outang loose. The latter was up the masthead before any mischief could be done and a lieutenant, the proprietor of the orang-outang; the quartermaster and a member of the crew hung themselves upon the hungry python—one at the head, another at the tail and a third in the middle. Then the fun began, for the python wanted to get one of the aggressors nicely in its coils and the men were determined it should be kept out in something as nearly approaching a straight line as possible.

For a minute it was a Laocoon group all over again, only in this case the three men and the snake were sprawling over the deck instead of standing upright in a classic attitude. Reinforcements, however, arrived in hot haste and about a score blue jackets, each embracing a foot of python, reduced the reptile to comparative acquiescence. The procession marched back to the python's box, coiled the creature inside and shut it up. But the orang-outang sat aloft on the masthead a long time before he came to the conclusion that he was off the menu for the day.

Capt. Bogardus Again Hits the Bull's Eye.

This world famous rifle shot who holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says:—"I suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and used several medicines, all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley Kidney Pills I had severe backaches and pains in my kidneys with suppression and a cloudy voiding. On arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and again feel like my own self." Sold by Howard Gardner.

THE HOPEFUL ATTITUDE.

It Helps One In Striving to Realize His Ambition.

There is a tremendous power in the habit of expectancy, the conviction that we shall realize our ambition, that our dreams shall come true, says Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine. There is no uplifting habit like that of carrying an expectant, hopeful attitude, of expecting that our heart yearnings will be matched with realities; that things are going to turn out well and not ill; that we are going to succeed; that, no matter what may or may not happen, we are going to be happy.

There is nothing else so helpful as the carrying of this optimistic, expectant attitude—the attitude which always looks for and expects the best, the highest, the happiest—and never allowing oneself to get into the pessimistic, discouraged mood. Believe with all your heart that you will do what you were made to do. Never for an instant harbor a doubt of this. Drive it out of your mind if it seeks an entrance. Entertain only the friend thoughts or ideals of the thing you are bound to achieve. Reject all thought enemies, all discouraging moods—everything which would even suggest failure or unhappiness.

"ALL DEMOCRATIC"

Norman E. Mack's Forecast—Lloyd Plays Roosevelt.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Chairman Norman E. Mack, of the Democratic National Committee, and Chairman James T. Lloyd, of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, are out with election forecasts in the current number of the National Monthly.

"It's going to be a Democratic sweep from Maine to California," says Mack. "Not in years have we witnessed a better fight than is being put up in every State in the Union by the State organizations."

Mack sees certain victory for the Democrats in New York, Ohio, New Jersey, Nebraska, Indiana and California. "Nowhere does there seem to be any party division," says the chairman. "And even down in old New England there is a sniff of party victory in the air. Judge Baldwin's fight in Connecticut is a winning one, and New Hampshire is sufficiently alarmed to send for Theodore Roosevelt to make a few speeches."

Congressman Lloyd says: "We are now able to estimate with some degree of accuracy the effect that the appearance of former President Roosevelt on the stump will have on the election. Apparently it is not beneficial to either wing of the Republican party, for he has shown himself to be neither a safe 'insurgent' nor a reliable 'stand-patter.'"

"It Beats All"

This is quoted from a letter of M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo. "I recently used Foley's Honey and Tar for the first time. To say I am pleased does not half express my feelings. It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and was threatened with pneumonia. The first dose gave great relief and one bottle completely cured me." Contains no opiates. WIGS AND BEARDS.

Bordered on the Grotesque in England in Queen Anne's Time.

At the restoration wigs began to be more generally worn, and in Queen Anne's reign they became the most costly item of gentlemen's wardrobes. Sir Richard Steele's "full buttoned black wig" cost 50 guineas (about $255), and the fashion became so cumbersome that Colley Cibber when playing "The Fool of Fashion" to satirize the styles introduced a wig of flax so large that it was brought on the stage in a sedan chair. As a matter of fact, the stagecoach lines were compelled to restrict the length of wig boxes to three feet.

John Taylor, one of the English minor poets, thus depicts the beards of his day:

Some seem as they were starched and fine,
Like to the bristles of an angry swine,
And some, to set their love's desire on edge,
Are cut and pruned like a quick set hedge;
Some like a spade, some like a fork, some square,
Some round, some mowed like stubble, some quite bare,
Some sharp stiletto fashioned, dagger-like,
That may in whispering a man's eye out-pyke;

Some like a hammer cut or Roman T;
These beards extravagant reformed must be;

Some with the quadrate, some triangle fashion,
Some circular, some oval in translation;
Some perpendicular in longitude,
Some like a thicker for their crassitude;
Thus height, depth, breadth, trifurcation,
Square, oval, round,

And rules geometrical in beards abound.

In the Kongo one of the most industrious peoples are the Baretela. In gathering rubber they go into the forests inhabited by the Baukuru head hunting cannibals. While the men are in the forest the camp is guarded by a man who surveys the surroundings from a scaffold and by a drummer. When the Baukuru are seen to approach the drummer beats the alarm and all the men return to the camp to fight. The weapons used are the spear, shield, bow and arrow.
